

London Review of Education

Vol.3, No, 3, November 2005, pp.191-204

The Role of Parents in Children's Achievement

Abstract

the bar sits on any of the social institutions, the role of the family in the intellectual, personal, emotional, moral, human beings cannot play. dealing with your child, especially in education do not have much information. Understanding the role of the family and help further the education of their children. Economic and health literate person may decide it is more humane and more insight than your thought and culture. Only communities have their own problems in the areas of nutrition, housing, clothing, health and education to eliminate the high level of literacy Bashnd.by literacy, not only regrettable phenomenon, but a sign alongside other signs that indicate of alienation and leading to a lag. . Advances in technology, industry, health and science literacy in all aspects of human life owes Ast.by important factors can have a significant impact, especially in health, economic development, cultural development, growth and education of children, irregularities and abnormalities in children, at the fact that in some of these families, literacy is alien category.

Introduction

About the causes of deficiencies and shortcomings encountered in the pursuit and achievement of children adopted parents. Development of children and families are respected and loved, essential training, family education classes with the trainers and master it.- Is there a relationship between parental education and children's academic progress there? many factors that are more important than all the items are selected. Family after marriage a man and a woman finds a set composed of a number of children are born into a family they said. Family education, children and infants is first base. Definition and progressive development progress literally means the process forward in a positive direction is upward. Theoretical definition of progress:

Family First Family of seed development and personal growth in human character building providesThe child learns language in the family, moral values, reward, social relationships with others teaches and learns moral principles. characteristics, the relative dependence of family, gender, parental education and family on how ethical values and the impact on children. and other family members involved, so that society as a system of interacting individuals and families.Three members of the family (father, mother and one child) Here are three kinds of interaction with the addition of a child, the third child in a family of six interaction will be added if the interaction is with the arrival of every ten Similarly, the interaction of the new child is added. The family is growing in volume and complexity of the human body is constantly changing. And family members as individuals and as part of a family unit act. as a basis for further social communication paradigm in which a person can be placed. Baby talk, walk, etiquette, customs, food, dress, attitude, responsibility, love and joy, aggression, aggressive behavior, isolation, love, courage, affection, assistance, help others, oppression and aggression, ... learns from his parents. Basically, the psychology of the child, especially in the pre-school child behavior, parental behavior is considered as a mirror. parents and children are loners are loners and isolated. (Karami light and Moradi, 1993) as the center of family love and security Love and security one of the most fundamental requirements for the training and development of children. Children need to be taught the security of the womb. He will continue after the birth of the environment is safe and secure and the most fundamental task of the same family, especially during the pre-school child is required. Even the family plays an important role in maintaining the life of the other. Friends, teachers and siblings may change during the life of the child, but parents keep close contact with their children during their life and as a firm foundation for a child's play. (Karami light and Moradi, 1993) One of the psychologists in the name of security as the basic condition for life knows Horney believed that the lack of parental love and friendship towards children, beating AC ablactate early forejudge the children, the punishment Misplaced behavior unreasonable, or ridicule, belittle and can discard the safety of children, particularly in the pre-school to compromise, even artificial friendship, love, and can not provide security for her. (Karami light and Moradi, 1372) in the lowest social class had a zest for formal education. It was also assumed that the lower drop-out rates in basic education will be expected of whom, like their fathers, fathers and friends. Unskilled or semi-skilled manual workers to come. In addition to. new discoveries are more children in her house to talk about books or materials and new discoveries are not ready to participate in discussions, to understand new issues and probably would be consistent with them. However, children whose parents are well-educated, more likely than other children to be interested in their success in their studies. Family life is also effective on a child's learning. For example, a child with his family to travel to most places. Most children who have limited travel experience, social studies, history and geography is ready- The role of parents in children's educational attainment and behavioral role of the school as the most important indicator for education and student success is undeniable and vital. One of the things that many scholars agree that education, training on proper planning and a low age. The family's role in academic achievement children effect. Families with children are educated and trained in the correct word or words deserve dealing with those who are deprived of the blessings are different. Most of them left attached, or in some cases with their parents in a silly trick to hold the position. (Boat, 1994, p. 52) (c) parents' attitudes toward school, parents' attitudes toward school and the future life of the child's attitude towards teaching and research effective. The lesson to be useless and a waste of time parents saw their children to the same judge may arise as the result of learning progress of the school does to do battle exertional. (Parsa, 1992, p. 116) (d) participation and cooperation of parents with children on homework for children during the school should be doing homework at home and face problems when doing these exercises. cause undesirable results. Some people spend large sums to provide clothing for their children, but they are not trained to afford the cost. The result of this thinking, poor reading culture in the society in setting the budget for the promotion of intellectual family, children included. (Zrhany, E., 1993, p. 139) S- role of parents in the correct orientation to education: children, parents are the best teachers, learning support and encourage it. The correct attitude towards learning, where children can learn an important lesson. The key role of parents in the learning process, parents are able to face this reality. Schools can only be approved on the basis of their subsequent training to help children. Have a positive attitude towards learning and help children in terms of physical, intellectual and social development of their feelings. (Fergus, 1374, p. 112 and p. 113) of the association between parental vast researchers believe that parents play an important role in the process of learning and education students and their relationship with the parents, the school is one of the duties of teaching, so that: (1) absence of a parent and ongoing communication with parents, the school is one of the biggest problems in education and training is the most effective agent to disrupt the process. 2. The education of the child's parents Tadavan to increase success: if educated parents with the promotion of economic, social and cultural (which is normally the case) the child's likelihood of success Tadh Myyabd.3-fold increase in the amount of parent on the issue of education and child-sensitive. There are serious and logical as well as the child will be successful. 4. The relationship between parents and school authorities should be disconnected and friendly. This relationship should be included in all levels of decision-making in matters of education, culture, economic cooperation, cultural and becomes manifest. In other words, the relationship between parents and school to school, so that's really confident and calm his second home and in the school. 5-expectation parents must be correct, complete, and it should be shared with the child until the child accordingly, move. 6. Successful parents are always careful planning, the program will also focus on its implementation. But parents are not helping either failed or did not insist on the implementation of the programs themselves are suffering from neglect. earn high scores, achievements in different tests measure intelligence and aptitude tests, particularly the academic and personal development of students. (B)

interest in school and careful attention to the students of Pedagogical issues. C - a dramatic increase student motivation to learn a lesson topics and consequently reduce the risk of school dropout. (D) greatly reduce the possibility of bringing children into drugs, cigarettes, drugs and psychotropic at puberty and then. E - the balance of the child's behavior and prevent abnormal behaviors, especially hyperactivity in children. Practices1. Under the guidance of a good and accurate advice to parents to monitor their child's education and guidance and control them during the school year 2-parent because of illiteracy, lack of information on how to deal effectively with children. Conducting briefings can login with parents and children to help them deal effectively with their education. coaches and parents are thought to be because the parents are not coordinated Vmrbyan, students will have doubts. Parents need to reduce the incentive problems in their children's education, encouraging the timely removal, and note that, to increase the motivation of students to help. 5. Parents should be required Baamvzsh alongside academic achievement of children, as they develop a sense of creativity and innovation in this regard. 6. Most parents know the long-term academic achievement in reading, this method returns false, fatigue and loss of interest and good will.

literature cited:

1-Pasha, Gholam Reza Aref, no, M., aspects, Muhammad Ali. Comparison Danshvyan male and female attitudes towards orphans, Islamic Azad University, Master's thesis, Islamic Azad University, Ahvaz, 2000.

2-act, dream. Review management style youth care centers under the supervision of Tehran Welfare Organization satisfaction with teenagers, MS Thesis, Tehran University, 1992.

-3-Rubaie, inspired. Families with children with emotional disorders in children, 1372

4-Rahmanpour, charming. Check the status of children in foster growth in the welfare area south of Tehran, the country Bhzsyty, 1377

5-messenger, Mary; Bagheri lankarani, N. and Abvalfsl Rhgvy. Effect of therapy on the evolution of the game 4 years) delayed social development in the nursery A., Scientific Conference - Social children (6 Child Care, 1376

6-Rzvyvn, competent, partner selection criteria in the boarding girls and girls living in the household and the obstacles Azdva C, Scientific Conference of children in foster care.

7-Siddiq, Mary. Effects of problem solving training on depression and girls living in welfare centers in Tehran, MS Thesis, University of Allameh Tabatabai, 1384

8-Alawi, Syed Kamran. Compare the moral development of young people and youth organizations in Tehran Welfare boarding school, a Master's thesis, University of Allameh Tabataba'i, Tehran, 1996.

9-Kakavand, Ali Reza, Assessing the impact of the loss of parents on behavioral disorders of children covered by child welfare and children without parents under normal Branch Relief Committee, theses. MA, University of Allameh Tabataba'i, Tehran, 1376.

1376